

Mary Jo Lowrey has been named one of just ten "5280 Top Lawyers" in the area of Labor and Employment (Plaintiff), and Sarah Parady has been named one of nineteen in the area of Civil Rights Litigation, for 2022. Ms. Parady was also named as a top lawyer in 2019 to 2021; it is Ms. Lowrey's second year on the list.

To create its list, 5280 Magazine explains: "To compile the list, we first invited attorneys in the seven-county metro area to vote for the peers they respect most in 50 legal specialties. Survey responses in hand, we then did weeks of reporting to get an on-the-ground perspective: Who are the best litigators? The finest contract writers? Who's been quietly building a name for herself? Who's been coasting on an outdated reputation? Based on those interviews and our survey results, we assembled the following list of the most skilled attorneys around."
